Johnson introduced the PC members. Nine members of the public were present.

Johnson summarized the purpose of the public hearing, which was to hear public comment on the proposed change to Zoning Ordinance Section 9.6, to allow micro-breweries in the section that currently allows wineries, meaderies and cideries.

A member of the public suggested possibly also adding “ale” and “stout” to the list. There was a brief discussion – the MLCC considers all of these “beer”.

John Popa – He read the changes and thinks the PC has done their homework and this is a good amendment.

There was no further comment.

Johnson closed the public hearing at 6:42 p.m.
